Mary Ludwig's photo and bio will be added as soon as they are available.

Anna Day Sullinger
VP, Program Planning

Anna is from Maysville, Kentucky and is currently living in Lexington, KY. She is in her 4th year of teaching Family and Consumer Sciences at Grant County High School. She has a MAED in FCS Ed. from Eastern Kentucky University and a Bachelors of Science in FCS Ed. from the University of Kentucky.

"I am passionate about Family and Consumer Sciences. I believe that we educate people on how to best live their lives. I enjoy promoting and expressing our mission and objectives so that people understand our importance. I am currently serving as FCCLA Alumni & Associates and President of Region 7 KATFACS (Kentucky Association of Teachers of Family and Consumer Sciences)."

Kim Henken
Treasurer

Kim Henken has worked at the University of Kentucky since 1995. During her first 11 years, she served as Extension Associate for Environmental and Natural Resources Issues. Since 2006, Kim has held the position as Assistant to the Director in the School of Human Environmental Sciences. In this position, she provides leadership for planning initiatives; coordinates events; oversees many public relations and communications activities; and serves as a liaison with internal and external groups.

Kim is active in KAFCS, AAFCS, Gamma Sigma Delta, Epsilon Sigma Phi, Kentucky Women in Agriculture, and the Kentucky Association of State Extension Professionals. She currently serves as the KAFCS Eastern District president-elect and as president-elect of UK's Gamma Sigma Delta chapter. In 2007, Kim received the Laura Clay Leadership Award from Kentucky Women in Agriculture. In 2002, she received the Outstanding Extension Associate Award from the Association of Kentucky Extension Specialists. She currently resides in Lexington with her husband, John, and son, Shawn.

Marjorie M. Baker

VP, Service

Marjorie Baker most recently served as Vice President for the Eastern District KAFCS and is on the AAFCS Development panel for Pre-professional Assessment.

Marjorie joined the University of Kentucky Family and Consumer Sciences staff as an Extension Associate in July 2004. She is the state coordinator for the Kentucky Master Volunteer in Clothing Construction Program.

Marjorie also teaches part-time at Eastern Kentucky University in the Family and Consumer Science Department.

Since 1996, Marjorie has served on the state staff for 4-H Youth Development as a program coordinator where she coordinates and gives support to the state 4-H Fashion Revue, state 4-H Sewing Skill-a-thon, and the apparel and textiles projects.

A native of Kansas, Marjorie holds a B.S. degree in Home Economics with Liberal Arts and a M.S. degree in Clothing and Textiles from Kansas State University. She is married and the mother of three grown children. She is an active volunteer for her local 4-H and Extension Homemaker programs having given more than 25 years of service. When the opportunity arises, she also teaches free lance classes on computerized pattern drafting, sewing, and needlework.
