Annual Meeting Issue 2019

President's Message Whitney Hilterbran KAFCS President

Greetings KAFCS Members!

We all know Family and Consumer Sciences has evolved over time. Many changes have occurred in just my seven short years as an FCS Professional. As an organization, KAFCS wants to help professionals embrace change and stay up to date on topics within our field.

Your annual meeting planning committee has worked extensively on revamping the meeting to better suit our membership. You will notice the meeting has a more condensed schedule to accommodate our members who may have evening family responsibilities. We have also moved the awards presentation to the luncheon on day two of the conference. We hope this will encourage more retirees and life members to attend this day of our conference.

The meeting will also be held in a new location this year. We are optimistic that the opportunity to see the historic Berry Hill Mansion in Frankfort may attract some members who haven't attended in a few years. There are still many great lodging facilities nearby to accommodate those who will need overnight accommodations.

We appreciate our long-time members and would like to welcome those who are new to our organization. If you haven't attended an annual meeting before, or have been away for a few years, please join us. I hope this will be the year you choose to come out to the annual meeting and "partner up with FCS"!
